DEGREE CANDIDATES

Florham Campus degree candidates, see page 12.
Metropolitan Campus degree candidates, see page 21.
Vancouver Campus degree candidates, see page 35.

Note: An undergraduate student whose cumulative grade point ratio (CGPR) for four years is 3.85 will receive his or her degree summa cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.67, magna cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.33, cum laude. Only weighted grades will be included in computing honors. Only the credits taken at Fairleigh Dickinson University, a minimum of 54 credits, will be used in this evaluation.

Due to time constraints, the honors listed therein were determined as of the end of the fall semester. The final listing for the commencement period will include those honors earned as of the completion of the spring semester, and diplomas will reflect this achievement.

This program does not represent an official list of certified graduates.

Stephen K. Klasko, M.D., M.B.A.

Doctor of Science

Executive-in-Residence, General Catalyst
Chief Medical Officer, Abundant Venture Partners
Former President, Thomas Jefferson University and Former CEO, Jefferson Health

Dr. Stephen K. Klasko is a trailblazing catalyst for revolutionary change. A former university president, health care system CEO, dean of two medical schools and practicing physician — and currently an author and entrepreneur — he has dedicated his career to the creative and optimistic transformation of health care and higher education.

As an ob-gyn with a large and thriving practice, Dr. Klasko began to see serious inequities in an increasingly flawed health care system. He went on to earn an M.B.A., and leveraging both his medical and business acumen, he began taking on leadership roles to drive change aimed at addressing health disparities and putting the interests of patients first.

As president of Philadelphia's Thomas Jefferson University (TJU) and CEO of Jefferson Health from 2013–2021, Dr. Klasko led one of the nation's fastest-growing academic health institutions. Driven by his vision for an unprecedented collaboration between health care and higher education, Jefferson Health expanded from three hospitals to 18 under his leadership, and Thomas Jefferson University evolved from a health sciences university to a multicampus professional university. Its merger with Philadelphia University created a preeminent national doctoral university that includes top 20 programs in fashion, design and occupational therapy. Under his administration, TJU introduced the first user-focused, design-thinking curriculum at a medical school, led the nation in pioneering research on the role of empathy in health care and forged the first-of-its-kind digital "health at any address" partnerships with venture capitalists.

Those successes have won Dr. Klasko widespread recognition and acclaim. Over the last five years, he was named #2 in Modern Healthcare's list of "100 Most Influential Individuals," #21 in Fast Company's "100 Most Creative People in Business," and was Ernst & Young's "Greater Philadelphia Entrepreneur of the Year."

Dr. Klasko currently serves as executive-in-residence at General Catalyst, a leading investor in digital health care, and chief medical officer of Abundant Venture Partners. In 2020, he was named a distinguished fellow of the World Economic Forum. In 2022, President Biden appointed him to the influential National Board for Education Sciences — one of only 15 individuals so honored.

A lifelong disc jockey, Dr. Klasko often uses music to find meaning and convey messages. The author of several books, he uses song lyrics in his most recent book, Feeling Alright: How the Message in the Music Can Make Healthcare Happier, to explain health care's problems and inspire solutions. He also is a highly sought-after speaker, facilitator and consultant.

STUDENT PINNACLE AWARDS

The Student Pinnacle Award is bestowed upon an outstanding student member of the graduating class. The student should meet the following criteria:

- Reflection of the unique character of FDU in his/her life;
- Significant contributions and outstanding service to the University;
- Significant contributions to society and humanity through public or humanitarian service;
- Cumulative grade point ratio of 3.00 or higher;
- Success or distinction in his/her chosen field of study; and
- Must be graduating in 2024.

Helen Ham

Student Pinnacle Award Vancouver Campus

Hailing from Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Helen Ham will graduate with honors, earning a bachelor of science degree in business administration and a minor in digital marketing. Excelling both academically and in extracurriculars, Helen maintained a consistent presence on the Academic Honors' List for four consecutive years and gained membership in the prestigious Beta Gamma Sigma International Business Honor Society, representing the top 10 percent of senior business students across three FDU campuses. In 2023, Helen showcased her talents at the Model National United Nations in New York, focusing on the United Nations Environment Assembly. Beyond her studies, she actively engaged in the Global Scholars program, fostering cross-cultural learning. Post-graduation, Helen aspires to a career in marketing.

Medjina Milfort

Student Pinnacle Award Metropolitan Campus

Medjina Milfort, of East Orange, N.J., will graduate with a bachelor of arts in criminal justice with a minor in social justice advocacy. Her academic excellence is underscored by her receipt of the Becton College Dean's Award for Excellence in Criminal Justice. Beyond academics, Medjina has demonstrated her leadership capabilities through active involvement on campus. She has held various leadership roles including president of the Residence Hall Association and serving as both president and public relations officer for the Black Student Union. Additionally, she has contributed to campus life through her participation in organizations such as the Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF), Student Government Association and the Student Bill of Rights Task Force. With a diverse employment background, including roles as a sales associate at H&M and as a graduate hall director with FDU's Housing and Residence Life Office, she excels in team leadership, event organization and conflict resolution. After graduation, Medjina will continue her studies at FDU pursuing a master of arts in criminal justice.

Michelle S. Schultheis

*Student Pinnacle Award
Florham Campus*

Michelle S. Schultheis, of Glen Allen, Va., will graduate with a bachelor of arts in creative writing with honors. During her time at FDU, Michelle has excelled in academics, leadership and community engagement. As a member of multiple international honors societies, including Kappa Delta Pi, Kappa Pi and Sigma Tau Delta, she demonstrated academic excellence. Her leadership roles spanned various organizations, including Student Government Association and Catholic Campus Ministry, where she served as president. Michelle's contributions extended to the broader community through roles at the New Jersey Secretary of Higher Education Office, Central Baptist Church and St. Michael's Catholic Church. Additionally, she actively volunteered as a faith formation instructor. After graduation, Michelle plans to be a support and role model for others, through ministry and/or teaching. She hopes to be able to work at a school or a church where she can help foster creative minds and lead people closer to Christ. Additionally, Michelle would like to make sure that she strives to make everyone feel seen, known and loved, as she believes that is the greatest calling in life. Michelle plans to continue her studies in FDU's QUEST (Quality in Education, Schools and Teaching) program.

THE PRESIDENT

Michael J. Avaltroni was appointed interim president on January 1, 2023, and then named the ninth president in the institution's history on April 26, 2023. He is a 1999 graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, receiving a B.S. in chemistry, summa cum laude. He went on to complete an M.A. in chemistry in 2001 and a Ph.D. in chemistry in 2003, both from Princeton University. His research interest is in surface science, specifically focused on surface modification of titanium materials to facilitate cell attachment, biomineralization and interfacial adhesion in biomedical devices. His research in this area has led to multiple publications and 10 United States patents. In addition, the technology he has created in this field of study has been licensed for the creation of two biotechnology companies, Orthobond, Inc., Princeton, N.J., and Aculon, Inc., San Diego, Calif.

Since joining the University in 2003, Avaltroni has worked in a number of different capacities, including as a faculty member and chair of the department of chemistry and pharmaceutical sciences. He was instrumental in the process to create the School of Pharmacy and Health Sciences. In 2009, he began building the school's curriculum, experiential learning and programmatic infrastructure as associate dean for academic affairs. He took over as interim dean in 2012 and was appointed permanently to the position of dean in spring 2013. Since creating the blueprint for the school in 2009, he saw the program accept its first class, worked to put together a first-rate team of faculty and staff, built strong relationships with the pharmacy and health-care communities across the state and the region and moved the program through full accreditation status with the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE). He also led efforts to expand health-science offerings across the University through programs in public health, physician assistant studies, occupational therapy, physical therapy and social work.

Avaltroni was appointed University provost and senior vice president for academic affairs in January 2022. In this role, he led the academic affairs subcommittee of the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Accessibility (DEIA) Advisory Council; laid the groundwork for new community-college partnerships; presided over the development of the Hispanic Center (which recently had two of its programs nationally recognized by Excelencia in Education); and coordinated the formation of a new academic leadership team. He further created the Transformational Excellence Awards to honor those faculty and staff who have gone beyond the ordinary to serve FDU students.

Since becoming president, Avaltroni has led many important initiatives including engaging the community in the strategic-planning process that led to the development of the plan titled "FDU Will Soar." Driving the planning process has been a renewed emphasis on putting students first and on prioritizing those items and initiatives that will most significantly and positively impact students. FDU also successfully concluded the capital campaign “One University Many Dreams,” which raised approximately $90 million, easily surpassing its original goal of $75 million. The University has introduced a new fundraising campaign focusing exclusively on raising money to help students have access to and better afford an FDU education.

In 2023 and 2024, he was named to the ROI Influencers: Higher Education Power List. He also was selected as an NJBIZ 2023 Education Power 50 honoree and in 2024 was named to Innovate New Jersey’s “Innovate 100 List.”

FAIRLEIGH

THE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1942 by Dr. Peter Sammartino and his wife, Sylvia (Sally), Fairleigh Dickinson University has grown into the largest private university in New Jersey and offers more than 100 degree programs at the associate, baccalaureate, master’s and doctoral levels. More than 12,000 students from 44 states and 90 other countries are enrolled on FDU’s two campuses in New Jersey and its overseas campuses in Wroxton, England, and Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

Beginning as a two-year junior college in Rutherford to respond to the need for higher education in northern New Jersey, the college expanded to a four-year curricula in 1948. In 1954, Bergen Junior College in Teaneck was purchased as a second campus. In 1956, Fairleigh Dickinson attained university status. One year later, the Vanderbilt-Twombly estate in Florham Park and Madison, New Jersey, was acquired to serve as another campus.

FDU became the first American university to own a campus in England when it acquired Wroxton College from Trinity College, Oxford University. Opened in 1965, Wroxton College offers American students an array of graduate and undergraduate programs as well as an enriching cultural experience.

Over the years Fairleigh Dickinson University has maintained its commitment to broadening global horizons and fostering greater international understanding. In 2000, the Board of Trustees adopted a newly focused mission for FDU: “Fairleigh Dickinson University is a center of academic excellence dedicated to the preparation of world citizens through global education. The University strives to provide students with the multidisciplinary, intercultural and ethical understandings necessary to participate, lead and prosper in the global marketplace of ideas, commerce and culture.” The University opened its second international campus in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, in fall 2007.

Each University campus has developed a unique character and vitality. The Metropolitan Campus, located in Teaneck and Hackensack, features a university atmosphere with an international perspective attracting nearly equal numbers of graduate and undergraduate students from throughout the United States and around the world. The Florham Campus in suburban Madison and Florham Park offers a classical undergraduate and graduate experience for the contemporary world in a small college setting.

Fairleigh Dickinson University has enjoyed special partnerships with prominent institutions around the globe. For example, the University has been associated with the United Nations since it was founded in 1945 and has earned special designations with the world body that provide unique learning opportunities for students and faculty.

With the depth and breadth of its faculty and programs, Fairleigh Dickinson University has transformed the lives of its students and positioned itself as a quality, comprehensive private university serving the citizens of New Jersey and beyond.

TRADITIONALLY...

Traditions link the present to the past and the future. In addition to the academic customs exhibited in the Commencement ceremony, Fairleigh Dickinson University has several unique traditions on display today.

At Fairleigh Dickinson, the academic procession includes the bagpipers, a practice dating back to the University's eighth commencement in 1951. Since then, it has become a tradition at graduation and other ceremonies for the pipers to play.

Other traditions recognize Fairleigh Dickinson University's global and multicultural background. For example, international flags have become a part of many ceremonies and events.

PILLAR SOCIETY

The Pillar Society was instituted to recognize those exceptional individuals who have made extraordinary contributions to the character and quality of the University, its community and culture. Criteria include serving FDU in a non-faculty role for at least 10 years on a level below the rank of vice president. Recipients are invited to participate in the Commencement ceremony procession.

CLASS OF 1974

The Fairleigh Dickinson University community is pleased to acknowledge and congratulate members of the class of 1974 as they celebrate a milestone this year — the 50th anniversary of their graduation.

THE ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic regalia worn by University officials and faculty at today's Commencement ceremony are infrequently seen outside of formal academic occasions.

The gowns, caps and hoods once were the regular apparel of European university students and faculty during the Middle Ages.

At that time, both faculty and students were considered part of the clergy and were required to don the ecclesiastical dress, roba and caputum, patterned after the habit of the Benedictine Order.

The regalia also served a practical purpose, providing warmth in the unheated stone buildings of most medieval universities.

In the United States, caps and gowns had been in limited use by colleges and universities since Colonial times. It was not until a century later that a widespread student movement resulted in the formal use of the attire at commencement ceremonies.

Faculty members readily accepted the return to a dignified and traditional dress for graduations and soon extended the custom to other formal academic functions.

By 1895, a uniform code for academic dress had been adopted in the United States, and although no formal worldwide standards have ever existed, certain basic and traditional elements are evident in most academic attire.

The Gowns

Participants in academic ceremonies are expected to wear the regalia to which they are entitled by virtue of the highest degree they hold.

Gowns worn by those with bachelor's degrees are distinguished by a semi-stiff yoke, long pleated front, intricate shirring across the shoulders and back and long pointed sleeves open at the wrists. The gown must be worn closed.

Master's degree holders wear a similar gown of either silk or wool with the same yoke effect as the bachelor's degree robe. The master's gown may be worn either open or closed in the front.

The doctor's gown, also worn either open or closed, is usually made of silk and velvet with full and round sleeves open at the wrists. These gowns are distinguished by long velvet panels down the front of the gown and three horizontal velvet sleeve bars, which may be either black or the color distinctive of the academic discipline in which the individual holds the doctoral degree.

Although the color of these gowns is traditionally black, some institutions have adopted robes in their school colors.

The Caps

The most familiar item of academic regalia is the Oxford or mortarboard cap with its distinctive tassel. Explanations of its origin include suggestions that its shape was inspired by the quadrangular Oxford campus or by the actual master workman's mortarboard. Perhaps a more plausible theory is that it was designed flat and about the size of a scholar's book for ease in carrying. Material for most caps varies from serge and broadcloth to rayon and silk, although caps worn by doctoral degree recipients may be of velvet.

The most distinctive feature of the cap is the tassel, which is positioned to hang from the left front quadrant of the cap. The tassel is black for bachelor's and master's degree holders, but gold for Ph.D.s and the primary governing officials of an institution. While the mortarboard cap is used by the vast majority of institutions around the world, some schools have adopted a soft, square-topped cap, but still retain the tassel.

The Hoods

The most distinctive feature of academic attire, the hood lends color and definition to academic ceremonies. Once used as a head covering, a shoulder cape and even a receptacle for collecting alms in medieval times, the hood is now a purely ceremonial black shell of varying sizes and colored borders suspended from the shoulders and worn down the back.

The significance of academic hoods is symbolized in their varying lengths and the colors and thicknesses of their velvet linings and trim. The bachelor's hood, for example, is three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet border. Master's degree recipients wear a hood three-and-a-half feet long with a three-inch border. Doctoral hoods are four feet long and have a five-inch-wide border.

More distinctive, however, are the colors of the hoods' inner linings and outer trim. The colors of the inner lining correspond to the colors of the institution conferring the degree, while the colors of the border designate the academic discipline in which the degree was granted.

THE MACE

The mace, a traditional symbol of authority, is carried in the academic procession by the grand marshal. The Fairleigh Dickinson University mace was presented to the University in 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pollak of New York City. It is one of only three maces of its type in the United States and was purchased for the University from Seymour B. Wyler, author of The Book of Sheffield Plate and The Book of Old Silver.

A very rare example of 18th-century Sheffield plate, it was made in 1765 for the Riddell family and bears its crest. A member of that family was an English representative to the Holland town of Duysberg.

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

Along with the traditional academic regalia and trappings common to colleges and universities throughout the United States, most institutions also possess some unique or distinctive symbol of the presidential office that is conveyed through succeeding administrations. Fairleigh Dickinson University commissioned the design and crafting of a President's Medallion for the inauguration of Robert H. Donaldson on March 29, 1985.

The President's Medallion is in the form of a hexagonal shield, a variation of the University "Shield of Arms." In the center of the Medallion is the gold-plated coat of arms. The motto, Fortiter et Suaviter (Bravely and Pleasurably), is engraved above the shield, and around it are engraved the words "Fairleigh Dickinson University 1942." The gold-plated frame of the Medallion is surmounted by a crest consisting of buildings symbolizing the campuses.

Kurt J. Matzdorf, professor emeritus of gold and silver-smithing at the State University of New York, College at New Paltz, and internationally known for his ceremonial and religious silver, designed and created the President's Medallion.
