

Official Document Verification Guide for New Students – Country Specific

Welcome to FDU Vancouver Campus!

Congratulations on your acceptance! To finalize your admission and register for classes, please follow this guide to submit your official academic documents.

Official documents consist of high school documents, undergraduate documents, post-graduate academic records, credential evaluation reports (mark sheets, diplomas, degree certificates and official translations). Academic records from foreign institutions must include details of all courses attended each year, units, credits or hours, grades or marks awarded. Additionally, official proof of degree conferral.

When to start preparing your documents?

It's a good practice to provide the Official documents once you have submitted the Immigration Documents-Study permit approval.

Documents need to be submitted by Orientation Week- Please submit all official academic documents by the New Student Orientation week of your starting term. Failure to provide these original or official documents by the deadline will affect your course registration.

Important Note:

- ❖ Non-returnable Documents: Official documents submitted via email or in a sealed envelope by your university will be retained by the FDU Vancouver Campus and will not be returned. All submitted official documents for admission consideration become the property of the University.
- ❖ Returnable documents: All original documents presented during orientation will be verified and returned to you at the same time.

Students who have recently completed a degree are required to submit proof of degree conferral and a final transcript as soon as these documents become available.

Note: Ensure all documents are provided to the University by your Document Check appointment date during the Orientation Week.

Acceptable forms of documents

Depending on your country and school, ONE of the following formats is required:

1. Electronic Academic documents:

- a. Electronic official (E-official) academic records issued by the Registrar's Office of your home university or high school board. It should be sent directly to vancouver-admissions@fdu.edu from your institution's official email domain. The email should include FDU Student ID. FDU will verify the sender's email address to ensure it originates from your institution. Emails from domains such as 'GMAIL,' 'HOTMAIL,' or 'QQ.COM' will not be accepted.
- b. Issued by a recognized digital credential service provider. It is usually through a portal that requires your login credentials such as:
 - i. NACES Institution member- Find details in #2
 - ii. National Student Clearinghouse
 - iii. Parchment
 - iv. CSSD- Applicants from Chinese institutions that participate in CSSD (formerly CHESICC) service for secure electronic delivery of transcripts/parchments can share their documents directly via vancouver-admissions@fdu.edu for Chinese institutions (https://www.chsi.com.cn/en/help/howtoapply_p_en.jsp)

2. Official Credential Evaluation: A course-by-course evaluation of your academic credential from a NACES Institution Member can be submitted electronically or in a sealed envelope sent directly to FDU Vancouver admissions by the evaluation agency <https://www.naces.org/members>.

3. Official Hard Copy of Academic documents: Official hard/physical copies of academic records in the original language issued by the Registrar's Office of your institution on its letterhead, stamped and sealed in an official school envelope. In addition to this, the certified English translation of their academic documents is required if the original documents are in another language. You can forward the issuing authority-sealed envelope to FDU Vancouver Admissions office if the Institute has released the official academic records to you.

Submitted by Mail: Request your university to send official documents in a sealed official envelope from your university's Registrar Office to:

English Translation Requirements

If your documents are not in English, submit them in the original language along with certified English translation from the issuing institution or a certified translator (notary certificates are not accepted). English translations are not required to be submitted in a sealed envelope.

Terminology:

Official Documents: (such as degrees, diplomas, certificates, transcripts, marksheets or any other academic record) are documents that must come directly from the education institution or educational authority that awarded you the credential. The Official document must bear the proper seal or certified stamp, signatures and postal markings of the issuing institution. The signature, seal and/or stamp should appear on all pages of the document. The documents are considered official only if they are sent directly to FDU Vancouver Admissions from the issuing institution in a sealed envelope or submitted electronically from the trusted source.

Sealed Envelope: It is an envelope that contains your official academic records. The envelope must be sealed by the institution with a stamp and signature over the flap.

If the seal remains intact when the envelope reaches the recipient, the document could be considered official. It is the recipient who ultimately determines whether the document is official. Please note that any documents presented in a torn or opened original sealed envelope will not be accepted.

Original documents: consists of a full set of documents that were awarded for a completed education credential and are usually the documents that you have in your possession. A full set of original documents should include both an academic record (such as a transcript) and the document you were awarded upon completion (such as a diploma/degree certificate).

Note: FDU may decline accepting original documents if the admissions office cannot confirm its authenticity.

If none of the modes are met, the original transcript and degree certificate issued by the University in a sealed envelope must be presented at the time of Orientation.

Disclaimer: Any documents submitted to FDU Admissions deemed false or altered could lead to the cancellation of your application and/or withdrawal of your offer of admission.
